Gray Court Apartments

Historic Features

The Gray Court Apartments (ca. 1928) are located in the West End Historic District and were built in the 1920's. The buildings are some of the best preserved buildings in the city. The apartments and common areas feature many of the original period details.

The apartments are unique and charming units that offer city vistas. The apartments feature hardwood floors with the original ornate light fixtures. Original doors, trim, brass handles, and locks remain in each apartment. The bathrooms feature well preserved original period tile work, ornate two piece commodes, and unique porcelain pedestal sinks. Glass paned cabinets divide the kitchens from the dining areas. Arched doorways and carved phone niches adorn the apartment's foyers. Each apartment's entry includes the original louvered outer door which provides for privacy while allowing cool summer breezes to circulate through the dwelling. Each oak stairway maintains its original finish & newel post carvings.

Location

At the top of the West End Historic district at the corner of Fifth and Broad, these distinct apartment homes are ideally located!

Gray Court is just a few minutes walk from the downtown business district, the Avenue of the Arts, the public library, Hanes Park, and downtown coffee houses, with access to I-40 only 2 blocks away.

The North Carolina School of the Arts, the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, and the School of Law are all within a short distance of Gray Court.

Grounds

Gray Court's immaculate grounds include dozens of flowering shrubs and ornamental trees. 80 year old oaks shade the rear lawn and provide green vistas for the upper story apartments. Lantern lit walks lead you home from the off street parking.
